MAHANOY CITY.

There are no new developments concerning the Indians.

Mahano City, Jan. 25.—There are no new developments in connection with the in-cendies of Shuny night. Rumors of all kinds are about, but when two men to their names are found to have no substantial foundation.

A young man from Shenandoah, named Higginson and otherwise known as McPhail, was arrested by Special Officer Werner last night and arraigned before the Chief Burgess.
The charge was that Higginson was burning suspiciously at Higginson's stable on West Railroad street. The prisoner said he was trying to find Thomas Faygert's place, which is in an indifferent part of the town. Higginson was kept in the lockup all night and released this morning, as nothing could be proved against him.

A movement is on foot among the stockholders of the burned Eagle Hotel to rebuild the structure and it will probably be successful.

There is a clash between the Chief Burgess and the Borough Council. The Council held a secret meeting and appointed a some force of special police to try and run down the fire bugs. The names of the police are kept secret. The procedure is denounced by the Chief Burgess as an insult to the dignity of his office, as he has not been taken into the secret work.

THE MANN CASE.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—Funeral Took Place to-day.

Deputy Coroner Manley and a jury comprising Patrick Conners, J. J. Powell, John Reilly, John Manley, Anthony Flaherty and Peter Ringlesier held an inquest last night in the case of Mrs. Dorothy Mann, wife of Louis Mann, who was found dead at her home Saturday evening.

The verdict of the jury was: "We find that Mrs. Dorothy Mann committed suicide by drowning herself in a bathtub while temporarily insane."

The funeral of the victim took place this morning at 10:30 from the family residence on North Mainstreet. The remains were taken to Pottsville for interment. The members of the Rehoboth Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Mr. Carmel, were in attendance at the funeral.

Ladies' free tickets Monday evening.

Prices: 10, 20 and 30 Cents.

Cave-in at Lost Creek.

A cave-in which might have resulted fatally occurred yesterday morning near the Lost Creek store. It happened but a few minutes after the funeral of the late Mr.
Mellard had passed the ill-fated spot. The depression is about 35 feet deep and 4 feet in diameter. It was stated to day that a man named Purcell, of Shenandoah, had driven into the breach, but escaped accident.

Burned at Lost Creek.

A slight explosion of gas occurred in Packer No. 3 colliery this morning. John O. Jones, of West Cherry street, was burned on the hands and face, but not seriously.
His injury, though slight, received a slight scorching on the face.

New Trial for Chubbs.

Judge Endlich, at the Pottsville court, this morning denied the motion for a new trial made by the defendant in the case of William F. Sader against the First National Bank of Girardville.

Collecting and Missing.

Philadelphians, Jan. 25.—Thomas Long, agent for collected money, has been missing since Jan. 12. He is about 30 years of age and has collected debts from 100 to 200 persons. His accounts are not settled. The amount was estimated at not less than $10,000 to $20,000. Long's family, consisting of wife and grown son, children, have nothing of his whereabouts.

Eleven Families Displaced by Flame.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—Eleven families were made homeless early yesterday as a result of a fire which did $10,000 worth of damage. The fire, whose origin is unknown, started in the basement and burned through the floor, causing a large hole in the roof.

Hand Injured.

William H. Temple, of Sixth Chestnut street, has left hand severely injured at the Kishon Valley yesterday. Temple is employed as "bottom" man at the shaft.
While he was at work yesterday a piece of coal fell from the top of the shaft and struck him on the back of the hand, fracturing several of the bones. Temple met with a similar accident about five months ago.

RENT ON THE STAND.

keep a record of the building and repair of bridges; tell by the condition of affairs when you came into office?

A. There is some kind of a record up to 1877 or 1878.

Mr. Schenck objected saying the records were the best evidence.

I had the dimensions of bridges, at the office, and the county surveyor to get all the data he could, and the clerks were instructed to get up in a book in style, they are not through with it yet, because they have too much other work.

Q. Who had charge of your minutes, and what kind of a clerk was he?

A. Our chief clerk, he was highly recommended to us and I found that he was a good clerk. I didn't approve of his way sometimes; for instance he would put minutes on a sheet of paper and slip them into the minute book, when I enquired, he said he was too busy, and I must say I never liked that in that office, I kept very clean and healthy.

Judge Bechtel ruled that nothing Connell told the witness about the way the books were kept by previous clerks was evidence.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Cross-examined by Mr. Schenck.

There were two Republicans and but one Democrat on the board. We began our three-year term Jan. 1, 1881; the first year there were differences owing to the dead Alien and Sedition laws, and the second year the Democrats got the upper hand.

Q. You got more friendly in 1882 and voted for Mr. Connell for chief clerk in January, 1883?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How is it you complained of Connell not voting for him in 1882?

A. He was a good man, and I could readily forgive him in some things.

He didn't keep the minutes to suit me, but I didn't know he was not keeping the records right. We held meetings any time they were necessary; if a bill was presented we did so; but we extended the bills, except those for witness fees, which are paid through the clerk's office; we do not inspect the witness fees bills.

Q. How is it you approve all the minutes that you voted for Connell as chief clerk in January, 1883?

A. Mr. Connell had the name of being a good clerk, but he was kept busy.

Q. How many clerks did you have?

A. Four or five; I think he was too busy to keep the minutes.

Q. Don't you know the same thing took place?

A. I couldn't say.

Q. Don't you know that young Schmidt wrote a big bunch of minutes at one time?

A. Yes; the minutes were kept on sheets of paper.

Q. Why didn't you see your records were kept right?

A. I had the assessments by a new system, the Almadene improvements and so on.

Mr. Rents admitted that he had never examined the minutes personally to see that they were correct.

Q. Didn't it a fact that you have learned more about your office since this trial began than you knew before?

Messrs. Ryan and Martz objected, but the witness answered: "If you would compare the way the office is now with how it was when you first took it, you will see the difference."

The witness was under the impression that the preliminary plans and specifications for the Almadene were destroyed. He was sure they had discussed the subject of the $50,000 of temporary loans not included in the statement of indebtedness prepared in June, 1880, in the Clerk's office, for the purpose of getting a loan from the U. S. Circuit Court, and that Mr. Connell had signed in favor of the plaintiff.

Q. Didn't you know from your experience of 1884 and '85 that you would be able to pay the temporary loans from the current excess?

A. No, sir.

Witness was also asked about the $12,000 worth of outstanding temporary loans funded at four per cent. in the early part of 1881, and he said they were pressed for payment and he considered it better to pay four per cent on bonds than in six per cent. on judgments. These temporary loans were outstanding from the date of the original loan of $50,000 for 1882 and the balance for 1883.

Witness admitted the temporary loan debt made in 1884, 1885 and 1886 amounted to $12,000, the first loan being $1,000, the second $2,000, the third $3,000, the fourth $4,000, the fifth $5,000 and the sixth $6,000.

This afternoon witnesses were called from Panama and Pine Grove to prove the good character of Charles E. Allen and John F.
Martin prior to the present difficulty. After witnesses were examined Mr. Rents was again called to the stand and his cross-examination continued.

Mr. Rents was again called to the stand and the performance of the day was over. The audience was delighted with the attraction, including the Rev. E. G. Zwayer, the blind preacher.

The First Baptist church revival meetings are growing in interest. Several conversions have taken place. This evening at 7 o'clock, the Rev. E. G. Zwayer, the blind preacher, will occupy the pulpit.

The early meeting in the M. E. church this evening from 7 to 7:30 will be in charge of Miss Lillian Bevan. The attendance is very good and the interest is becoming widespread. The pastor preaches at 7:30. Subject: "The four characteristics of a man who tried to do right." All are invited to come early and enjoy the benefit of these revival meetings.

The plaintiff conducted a grocery in a house on West Oak street owned by Koller and became three months in arrears for rent.
On the 10th inst., under suit by Koller, Constable Daniels proceeded to make a sale of the store contents to satisfy the rent claim.
Koller had signed in favor of Walakawicz a release of the property.

The sale in the store was reduced to such an extent that there was not enough realized from the sale to cover the amount of rent, so that there was nothing left for Walakawicz.

Mr. M. E. Burke, Rosedale, Ill., suffered for eight years from dropsy and cardiac constipation and was finally cured by using Dr. W. L. Little's "Early Risers," the famous treatment for stomach and liver troubles.
He was a man of great energy and strength and always enjoyed good health.

He died at Rosedale, Ill., Aug. 1, 1888.

He was buried in the cemetery of Rosedale.
